

Labour Market Analysis in India (1991–2025)

A Data-Driven Study on Unemployment and Skill Mismatch

Youth Unemployment Rate

16.02%

2025 · Peak: 26.00% in 2018

Skill Mismatch Index

3.80

2025 · Up from 2.64 in 1991

Gender Gap (LFPR)

45.19

2025 · (Male–Female)LFPR difference

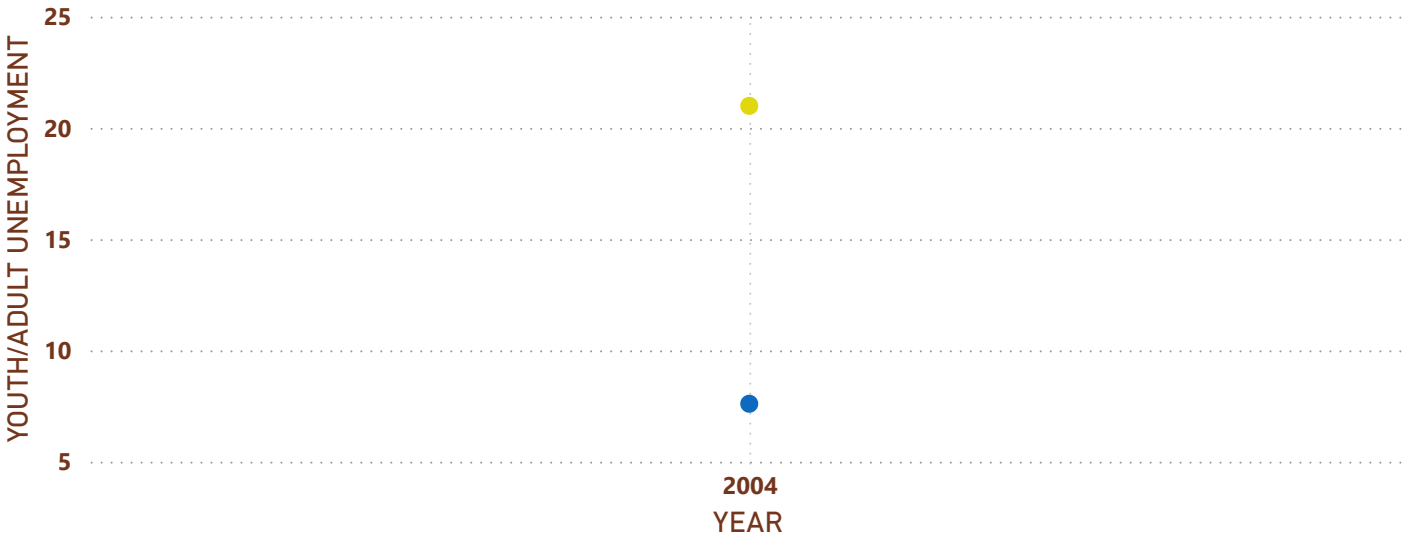

Total Labour Force Participation Rate

55.66%

2025 · Down from 57.97% in 1991

Youth VS Adult Unemployment Rate (1991–2025)

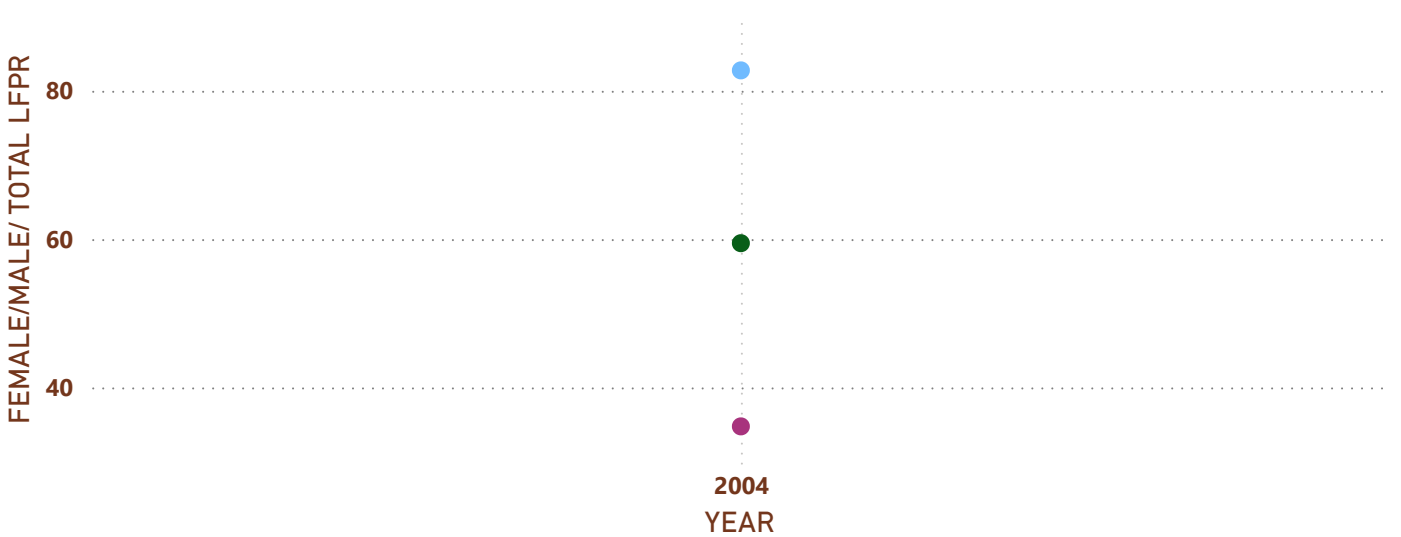

● Youth Unemployment ● Adult Unemployment

Youth unemployment is 3.80x higher than adult unemployment in 2025, confirming persistent structural mismatch. (Section 7.1)

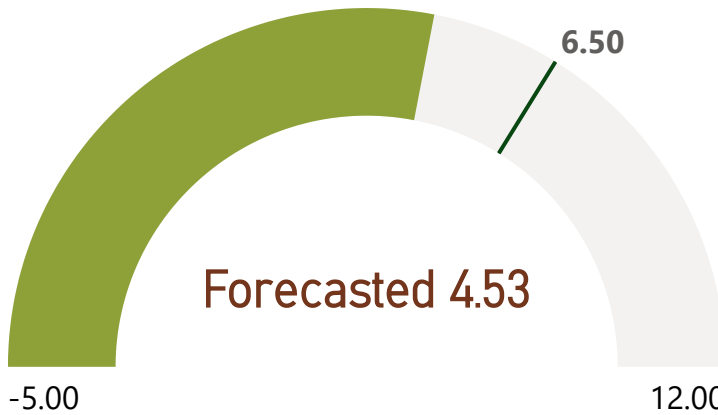

Labour Force Participation Rate Trends (1991–2025)

● Female LFPR ● Male LFPR ● Total LFPR

Declining total LFPR reveals growing discouraged workers, true unemployment is underestimated. (Section 7.3)

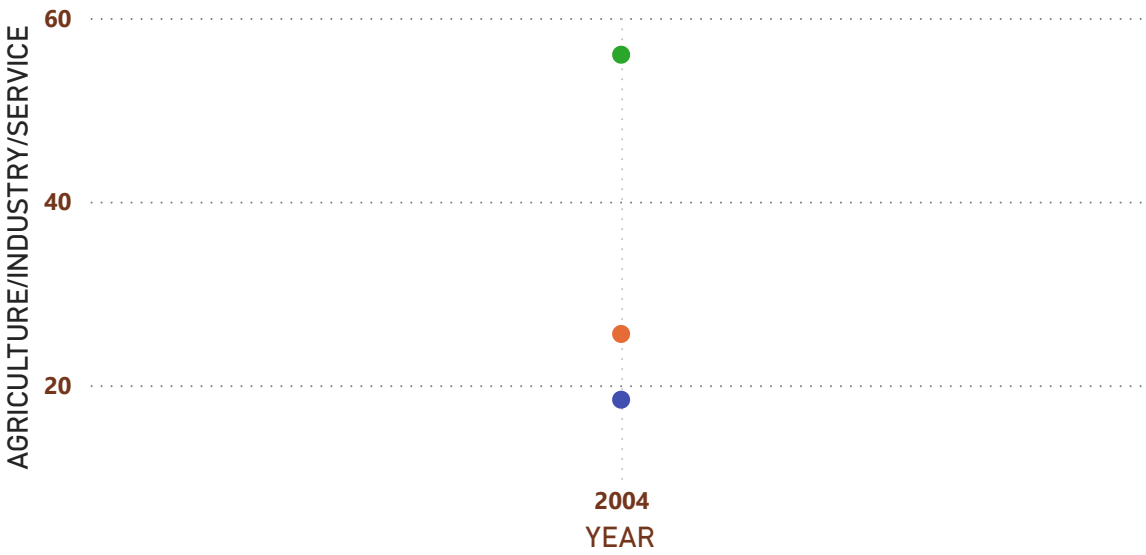

GDP Per Capita Growth Rate — 2025 (Forecasted)

⚠️ 2025 value forecasted (data unavailable)

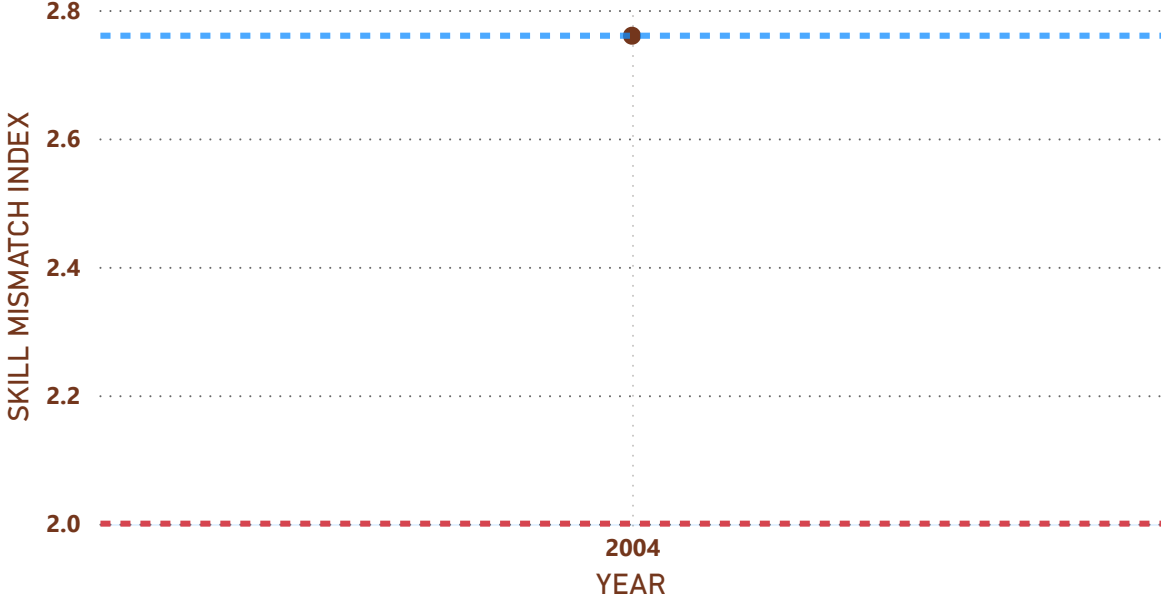

Sectoral Employment

● Agriculture ● Industry ● Service

Services dominates but lacks large-scale absorption capacity. (Section 7.6)

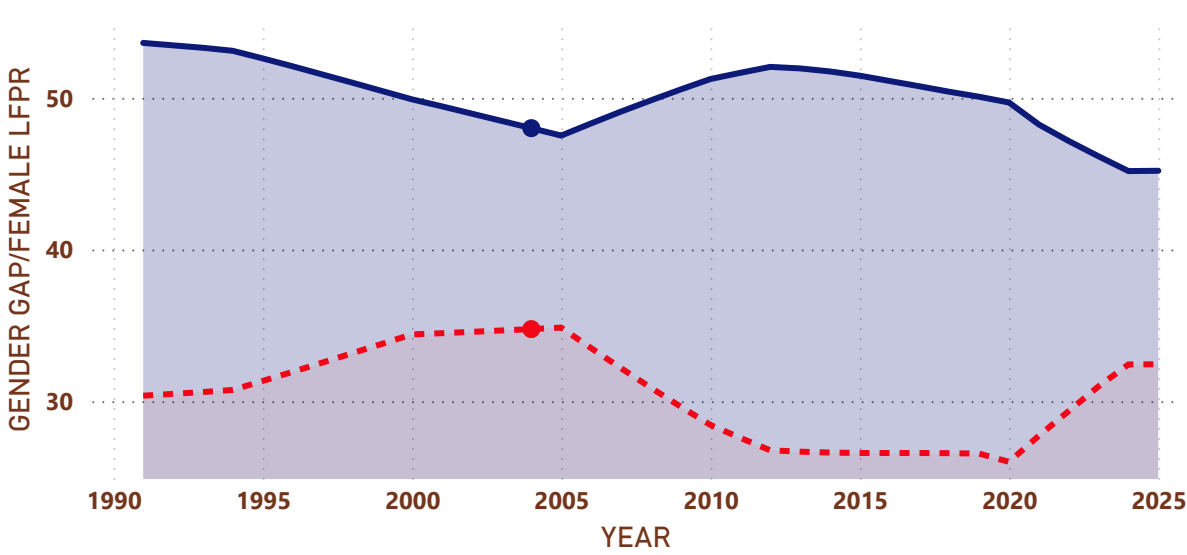

Skill Mismatch Index Trend (1991–2025)

Index rose from 2.64 (1991) to 3.80 (2025), mismatch worsening every decade. (Section 8)

Gender gap in LFPR (1991–2025)

● Gender Gap ● Female LFPR

Gender gap of 45 points persists — women remain excluded from workforce. (Section 7.4)